Comment Policy

All readers are encouraged to leave comments. While all points of view are welcome on the Aesthetic Society blogs, only comments that are courteous and on-topic will be posted. All comments will be reviewed and responded to (as needed) within three to five business days of submission. Comments from readers under the age of 13 will not be posted, due to the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA). The Aesthetic Society reserves the right to post comments at its discretion. Spam and comments endorsing commercial products or services will not be posted.

Participants on this blog are fully responsible for everything that they submit in their comments, and all posted comments are in the public domain.

Asking medical questions about specific doctors or defamation communications or requests for prescriptions or diagnoses is not permitted and outside the scope of this blog. Aesthetic Society members will refrain from giving advice about specific medical problems nor should answers provided by responding plastic surgeons be substituted for a personal medical/surgical consultation. Sorry we can't answer all questions. We try to select questions that have the widest general interest.
